Dyslexia Support Courses: Navan Education Centre

Seminar for Parents- 14th of April 2016 from 6-9 pm

A parent of a child with dyslexia is keen to unlock the inner potential of the child. Often after a diagnosis the parent is unsure where to turn and how to give the child the extra support which is required for them to progress. The seminar for parents of children with dyslexia will equip the parent with a better knowledge of what dyslexia is and its effects on learning.

- Parents will be shown how to use proven support strategies, templates and resource materials which will benefit the child.
- Examples of Assistive technology including Computers, Apps for Tablets / Smartphones will be discussed and their usefulness for the learner with dyslexia will be demonstrated.
- Parents will be informed of the status of dyslexia in the education system and given knowledge of the various steps to take to ensure your child is receiving the support available.
- We will look at ways to boost your child's self-esteem and make them a more confident and successful learner.
- You will receive a resource pack which will enable you to immediately support your child with the latest research into dyslexia.

Tea and coffee will be provided. The fee per person is €45-booking can be made through PayPal on the website: www.dyslexiaconsultant.com
