

Green Travel Code Competition

In November all classes participated in a competition to compose a new code for St. Paul's as we begin working on our Travel theme. The children in Junior Infants to second class took part in a colouring competition. The winning two codes from each class were entered into the grand final and the Green School committee and Ms. O'Doherty had a tough time trying to decide on a worthy winner. The standard was so high that we decided to put a few codes together and come up with a little poem reminding us of the importance of choosing green methods of travel both to and from school.

Congratulations to the following children whose slogans have been put together to make up our new travel code.

Harry Reilly (6th)

Nathan Kelly (6th)

Fionn Nolan (5th)

Sarah Berns (4th)

Lauren Hu – illustrations (6th)

Think Clean, Travel Green

The journey to school,

it's not far

so, come on kids

get out of the car.

You have feet you can use

So walk to school in your shoes.

Or be cool

And use carpool.

Walking, cycling going by bus

Makes a greener world

And a healthier us!

Congratulations also to the following colouring competition winners:

Rebecca Comiskey (Junior Infants)

Aoibheann O'Connor (Junior Infants)

Sara McMahon (Senior Infants)

Kean Moran (Senior Infants)

Sadie Prior (1st)

Ava Doran (1st)

Megan Murray (2nd)

Erin McNamara (2nd)

Sophia Read (Room 26)

Caolán Ó Chearnaigh (Room 26)
