

Roll on the Diggers!

The 16th of February 2011, was a great day for St. Paul's as the diggers arrived to build the new school.

There was a great air of excitement about the school as the building company arrived on site to commence building. This day had been long awaited by the staff, parents, Board of Management and principal Ms. McGowan.

Ms. O'Toole and Ms. Ward greeted the builders with thumbs up and smiles.

Principal Morag McGowan and Deputy Principal Ms. Ward got their hard hats out and ready for any challenges that might come their way.

This will be the front aspect of the school.

The new school will wrap around the existing prefabs in an L shape.

Along this stretch is where the basketball courts will be built and where the children will play at break and lunch time.

This is where the front door of the school will be, looking out at Jamestown Park.

Parents, pupils, staff and community
